Professional Experience

Reddit, Senior Product Designer · 01/2026 to Present

- Accelerated design at Reddit by using AI-assisted development (Cursor, Copilot) to build functional, dev-ready prototypes.
- Designed a dynamic acquisition and onboarding framework for Reddit Pro, enabling unique targeting for diverse user segments while eliminating redundant engineering overhead.

Snapchat, Design Systems Lead · 1/2024 to 01/2026

- Leveraged AI tools to partner with engineering in bug bashes and deep code fixes, while building custom Figma plugins adopted by the wider design team.
- Architected color primitives and design tokens for light and dark mode themes, establishing visual cohesion significantly improving A11y across the platform.
- Facilitated cross-functional workshops to develop scalable design patterns for core product surfaces including Friends Feed and Chat, driving widespread usability.

YouTube, Manager | Lead | Senior UX Designer · 01/2014 to 06/2023

- Orchestrated global leadership strategy summits, sprints, and quarterly presentations to executives, ensuring cross-functional alignment and achieving key business objectives across 100+ countries.
- Collaborated with executives to design and launch YouTube's 'Free-with-ads' and 'Primetime Channels' subscription tiers, creating new recurring revenue streams.
- Designed end-to-end browse and consumption UX, including Content Entity Framework for YouTube Movies & TV, scaling channel subscribers from 68M to 130M and increasing revenue annual run rate by 4x.
- Led major redesign of YouTube on TV app inventing new navigation paths for emerging verticals (Music, Gaming, Entertainment), driving a ~1.8% watch-time lift and increased signed-in users from 10% to 30%.
- Led foundational UX for mobile-to-TV casting and identity systems, resulting in the successful launch of the platform's first multi-account management, Chromecast queue and autoplay features.

Apple, Design Lead | Production Designer · 03/2011 to 08/2012

- Established a rigorous style guide and pattern library for Apple's Developer Documentation, leading a team to produce 600+ technical diagrams. Crafted 1,500+ pixel-perfect UI assets for flagship iOS and macOS software (iTunes, Keynote, Safari).
